It seems as if an organization of this age and importance should have some written record of its activities. Miss Noyes has kindly consented to allow her library to become a depository. It has been my fond, but unaccomplished, hope to make a list of all the present members, particularly library members, with the names of their successive librarians. This has only been started, but I hope to complete it as far as is possible from the material available in Detroit.

Since it was feared that very few members would be able to attend the meeting this year, cards were sent out with a request to notify Miss Ophüls whether or not we were coming. The secretary thanks Miss Ophüls for mailing the programs from San Francisco.
